JUNE 20 - 23, 2019

Hazeltine National Golf Club | Chaska, Minnesota

Defending Champion: Sung Hyun Park

FACTS AND FORMAT

Purse and Honors The 2019 KPMG Women's PGA Championship features a $3.65 million purse. The Championship (formerly the LPGA Championship) is now operated by the PGA of America in partnership with the LPGA. The Champion will receive the KPMG Women's PGA Championship Trophy.

Television The KPMG Women's PGA Championship will be broadcast in partnership with NBC and Golf Channel.

GOLF Channel:

First Round, Thursday, June 20

6:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m. ET

Second Round, Friday, June 21

6:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m. ET

NBC:

Third Round, Saturday, June 22

3:00 p.m. – 6:00 p.m. ET

Fourth Round, Sunday, June 23

3:00 p.m. – 6:00 p.m. ET

Method of Play Seventy-two holes of stroke play (four rounds of 18 holes). Following the first 36 holes of play, the field of 156 players will be reduced to the low 70 scorers and ties. Those players will advance to complete the final two rounds. In the event of a tie for first place after 72 holes, there will be a hole-by-hole playoff, beginning on Hole No. 18.

If a tie still remains, the playoff will advance to Hole No. 10, 17 and 18 until a winner is determined.

Eligibility The field of 156 players for the KPMG Women's PGA Championship will be determined as follows:

1. Active LPGA and/or World Golf Hall of Fame members.
Note: To be considered Active, an LPGA and/or World Golf Hall of Fame member must have participated in 10 official LPGA tournaments within the 12 months prior to the commitment deadline.
2. Past winners of the KPMG Women's PGA Championship (inclusive of all previous winners of the LPGA Championship).
3. Professionals who have won an LPGA Major Championship in the previous five (5) years (2014-2018) and during the current year (2019).
4. Professionals who have won an Official LPGA tournament in the previous two (2) calendar years (2017- 2018) and during the current year (2019).
5. Professionals who finished top-10 and ties at the previous year's KPMG Women's PGA Championship.

6. Professionals ranked No. 1-30 on the Rolex Women's World Golf Rankings as of May 21, 2019.

7. The top eight (8) finishers at the 2018 LPGA T&CP National Championship as determined by the LPGA.

8. The top finisher (not otherwise qualified via the 2018 LPGA T&CP National Championship) at the 2019 PGA Women's Stroke-Play Championship.

9. Members of the European and United States Solheim Cup Teams in 2017.

10. Maximum of two (2) sponsor invites.

11. Any Player who did not compete in the 2018 KPMG Women's PGA Championship due to maternity, who subsequently received a maternity extension of membership from the LPGA (or other Rolex Ranking Tour) in 2018, provided they were otherwise qualified to compete in the 2018 KPMG Women's PGA Championship.

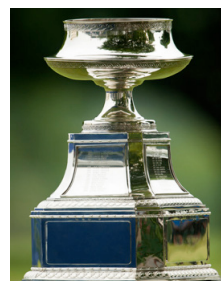

12. LPGA Members ranked in the order of their position on the 2019 Official Money List through the conclusion of the Meijer LPGA Classic for Simply Give.

13. If the event is not full, the remainder of the field will be filled by Members, ranked in the order of their position on the 2019 LPGA Priority List as of the commitment deadline.

Rules and Regulations The Rules of Golf, which govern play, are determined by the United States Golf Association and applied by the Ladies Professional Golf Association and the PGA of America Board of Directors. The KPMG Women's PGA Championship is subject to the overall supervision of the PGA of America Board of Directors and the LPGA.

Champion Benefits

- Five-year exemption for membership on LPGA Tour (if currently an LPGA member)
- Five-year exemption into LPGA major championships
- If winner is a non-member, eligible for LPGA membership for remainder of the current season and membership for the following season

KPMG Women's PGA Championship Trophy

HISTORY

The KPMG Women's PGA Championship continues the rich tradition of the LPGA Championship as the second-longest running tournament in the history of the Ladies Professional Golf Association. The Championship, offering a purse among the highest in women's golf, brings together a world-class, annual major golf championship with a women's leadership summit and an ongoing charitable initiative to inspire and develop new generations of female leaders.

It is one of five majors in women's golf, joining the ANA Inspiration, U.S. Women's Open, Women's British Open and The Evian Championship.

Beverly Hanson won the inaugural LPGA Championship in 1955 at Orchard Ridge Country Club in Fort Wayne, Indiana, defeating Louise Suggs, 4 and 3, in the championship match. It was the only time the LPGA Championship ended in a match-play finale after the initial three rounds were conducted via stroke play.

Past LPGA Champions include many of the greatest names in women's golf: Mickey Wright, Betsy Rawls, Kathy Whitworth, Nancy Lopez, Beth Daniel, Betsy King, Juli Inkster, Laura Davies, Annika Sorenstam, Se Ri Pak, Cristie Kerr and Inbee Park.

Mickey Wright won this Championship a record four times (1958, 1960, '61, '63). Park, with her victory in 2015 at Westchester Country Club, joined Lopez, Pak, Sörenstam and Whitworth on the short list of three-time winners.

Park (2013-15) also shares the all-time record for consecutive titles with Sörenstam (2003-05).

One of the tenets of the ground-breaking collaboration among KPMG, the PGA of America and the LPGA was that this Championship would be shared with the nation's finest golf courses and communities.

This commitment yielded quick results. After a 2015 debut at the Westchester Country Club outside New York City, the 2016 KPMG Women's PGA Championship was contested at Sahalee Country Club, which is located just 30 minutes east of downtown Seattle. For consecutive years in 2017 and 2018, the Championship was held in the greater Chicagoland area at Olympia Fields Country Club and Kemper Lakes Golf Club. In 2019 and 2020, the Championship will be contested at Hazeltine National Golf Club in Chaska, Minnesota, and Aronimink Golf Club in Newtown Square, Pennsylvania, respectively. All of these golf venues share one trait; they have championship pedigree.

2018 Sung Hyun Park raised her arms and placed her hands on her head before hugging her caddie and wiping away tears.

She simply could not contain her emotions after winning her second major championship — and doing it in such dramatic fashion.

Park beat So Yeon Ryu on the second hole of a playoff.

After a brief rain delay on the par-4 16th hole at Kemper Lakes, Ryu's birdie try rolled past, and Park finished off her South Korean compatriot with a 10-footer.

"Actually, this is my first time feeling this kind of emotion, being this emotional," Ryu said through an interpreter. "And I was really happy, like, I couldn't help that."

Park, who began the day four shots behind, then went to 9 under with back-to-back birdies, chipping in on the par-3 third and Japanese teen Nasa Hataoka, after shooting an 8-under 64 to post at 10 under, dropped out of the playoff with a par on the par-4 18th. Ryu made a 20-footer for birdie from the fringe, and Park followed from 10 feet.

Park closed with a 3-under 69. Ryu had a 73. She took a two-stroke lead on the 16th but hit into the water on the par-3 17th en route to a double bogey.

"Wind just took it really hard to the left, and then it's in the water hazard," she said. "But once again, I did my best. If I look back, nothing I can do any better than that. I just did 100-percent effort every shot, every putt and still, you know, I like looking at the positive side. This is my best finish for this tournament, so hopefully it's going to keep improving. And one day I want to lift that trophy."

But this time, it was Park's turn. She made a brilliant par save on 16 after she dug out from the water's edge. In the end, the 24-year-old added another major to go with the 2017 U.S. Women's Open and took home the $547,500 prize.
